Completing a Case Merge

Depending on the cases selected, the system will:

- display an error message explaining why the persons can't be merged
- display a message asking you to switch the Case IDs
- allow you to merge the persons together successfully.

Example of a Case Merge Error Message

If the cases cannot be merged, an error message appears at the top of the screen explaining why.

1. If possible, correct the case merge error.
2. Complete the previous steps to merge the cases again.

 1 validation message(s) We found a few areas that need your attention:

- Invalid Merge - remove-case has more than 1 episode (2 episodes found)

Note: The following things can prevent cases from being merged:

- Having certain work items on a remove case
- Having previously removed certain work items from a remove case
- The retain or remove case contains converted data.

To view a complete list of work items and their effect on merging cases, see Appendix A.

Example of a Switch Case ID

1. To switch Case IDs, click the Switch Case IDs button.

Important: This button switches the retain case with the remove case.

Example of Two Cases That Can Be Merged

If the cases can be merged successfully, the Retain Case / Remove Case screen appears displaying three sections (Case Member Comparison, Case Assignment Comparison, and Caretaker).

Important:

- The three sections are discussed in more detail below.
- In the Status fields (shown in green), the following values can appear for both remove and retain cases: N/A, Open, or Closed. If the retain case status is N/A, then the remove case must be owned by the same agency to merge the cases. If both the retain and remove case status is Open, then both cases must be owned by the same agency.

Case Member Comparison Section

On the Retain Case / Remove Case screen, the Case Member Comparison section (Remove Case column) shows active case members on the remove case who are not on the retain case.

1. Click the check box next to any case members who you want to add to the retain case.

Retain Case	Remove Case
Active Members	Active Members

The Remove Person section will list case members from the remove case, but not from the retain case. These case members will be grouped by “Active” or “Inactive” status.

For case members who have work items, their checkbox will automatically be checked and cannot be unchecked. However, you can select other case members to retain by clicking the check box next to their name.

Case Assignment Comparison Section

On the Retain Case / Remove Case screen, the Case Assignment Comparison section (Remove Case column) shows assigned workers on the remove case who are not on the retain case.

If an assigned worker previously created work items on the remove case, their check box will automatically be checked and cannot be unchecked. And, that worker’s name will automatically appear within the Assignment History on the retain case.

1. Click the check box next to any assigned worker who you want to add to the retain case.

Worker Assignment Overlap Dates

If there are any worker assignment overlaps, the system automatically adjusts the dates as shown in these examples:

Example 1

Retain Case = Worker has assignment from Jan 1 to Feb 12

Remove Case = Worker has assignment from Feb 1 to No End Date (null)

After the case merge, the worker's assignment would show as beginning on Jan 1 and the end date would be removed, because the end date on the remove case was null.

Example 2

Retain Case = Worker has assignment from Jan 1 to Feb 12

Remove Case = Worker has assignment from Feb 1 to Feb 15

After the case merge, the retain case would show the worker was assigned beginning on Jan 1 and the system would update the end date to show Feb 15.

Caretaker Section

On the Retain Case / Remove Case screen, the Caretaker section allows you to choose which primary and secondary caregivers to retain on a case.

1. In the Caretaker section, select radio button(s) in both the Remove Case and Retain Case sections as needed.
2. When complete, click the Merge button.

The screenshot shows a web interface for case management. At the top, there is a blue header with the word 'Caretaker'. Below this, the interface is split into two columns: 'Retain Case' on the left and 'Remove Case' on the right. Each column contains two radio button options. In the 'Retain Case' column, the 'Primary:' option is selected. In the 'Remove Case' column, the 'Primary: Test, Primary' option is selected. At the bottom of the interface, there are two buttons: 'Merge' and 'Cancel'.

A message displaying Successful appears. This means the case merge was successful.

Appendix B shows what case details you can expect to see on the retained case after a merge is complete.

Other General Rules about Merging Case

- If a remove case is restricted, then the retain case will be restricted (if the retain case is not already restricted).
- If the retain case status is N/A, then the remove case must be owned by the same agency to merge the cases.
- The remove case can only have one episode in order to merge the cases. N/A status is not considered an episode.
- If both the retain and remove case status is Open, then both cases must be owned by the same agency.
- If a retain case is linked to a remove case, then that link will not move to the retain case.

Appendix B

This table provides a complete list of case details and specifies what occurs with each one after a successful case merge.

Case Details	What Occurs After a Case Merge
Ticklers	All ticklers move from the remove case to the retain case
Ad Hoc Ticklers	Only ad hoc ticklers associated with the assignment (that was moved from the remove case) will merge
Assignment	This is user selectable and will appear as a list of non-duplicated assignments in the retain case. Also, the assignment(s) of workers who have completed or approved work items are automatically moved. If overlapping worker assignments exist, Ohio SACWIS adjusts the dates to include the entire date range for that worker using the dates from both the retain and remove cases. See date example in the section above.
Caretaker	This is user selectable for both the remove and retain case. The selected caretaker(s) will move to the retain case.
Case Reference	Non-duplicated case references are moved automatically. The remove Case ID will be added as a case reference to the retain case.

Case Details	What Occurs After a Case Merge
Associated Persons	Non-duplicated associated persons are moved to the retain case automatically. Active date spans are adjusted as needed.
Relationships	Relationships from the retain case will remain on the merged case. For selected members on the remove case, non-duplicated relationships will be moved to the retain case. If a conflict exists, the retain case relationship takes priority.
Case Members (Active/Inactive)	Non-duplicated case members on work items are automatically moved to the retain case. Non-duplicated case members who are not on work items are then presented for the user to select. Active date spans are adjusted as needed. If overlap exists, the dates will be adjusted to include the entire date range. The active date spans for non-duplicated case members are adjusted as shown: Example: <table style="width: 100%; border-collapse: collapse;"> <tr> <td colspan="2" style="padding-left: 20px;">Retain Case</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Active Member</td> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Inactive Member</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Jan 1 – Feb 12</td> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Feb 12 – no date (null)</td> </tr> <tr> <td colspan="2" style="padding-left: 20px;">Remove Case</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Active Member</td> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Inactive Member</td> </tr> <tr> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Feb 1 – Feb 10</td> <td style="padding-left: 40px;">Feb 10 – no date (null)</td> </tr> </table> For the retain case, the system would show the person as being active on Jan 1 (the earliest date) and inactive on Feb 12 (the latest date).
